AVA's Recommendation:

Based on your criteria for a sailing catamaran charter in Greece, I can provide several options that match your requirements. For a group of 6 people with a skipper in June, your budget of €15,000 plus 30% APA is workable for a variety of vessels. The most suitable option appears to be a Lagoon catamaran like the 'FOR SAIL', which is a 56ft luxury crewed catamaran. While it has 4 cabins (you only need 3), it can accommodate up to 8 guests comfortably, making it spacious for your group of 6. This vessel starts at €17,000/week, which is slightly above your stated budget, but they do offer 10% off for weekly charters in May and October (though not June specifically). Alternative options would include other catamarans from charter companies like Click&Boat or MyGreekCharter, which offer vessels with 4-6 cabins that can accommodate 6-12 guests. Most charter catamarans in Greece feature ensuite bathrooms, air conditioning, and luxury bedding for comfort. For your June timeframe, I recommend booking as soon as possible as this is peak season in Greece. Your budget of €15,000 plus 30% APA (approximately €19,500 total) should be sufficient for a quality charter with a skipper, though you may need to be flexible on the exact vessel specifications.
